CHRISTMAS QUOTES

“Infinite, and an infant. Eternal, and yet born of a woman. Almighty, and yet hanging on a woman's breast. Supporting a universe, and yet needing to be carried in a mother's arms. King of angels, and yet the reputed son of Joseph. Heir of all things, and yet the carpenter's despised son.”—Charles Haddon Spurgeon

“The Son of God became a man to enable men to become sons of God.”—C.S. Lewis

“You can never truly enjoy Christmas until you can look up into the Father's face and tell him you have received his Christmas gift.”
—John R. Rice

Christmas Hymn Stories: "What Child is This?"

By Pastor Terry L. Reese, 12/19/2021

"Who do men say that I, the Son of Man, am?" — Matt. 16:13

"What Child Is This?" is a Christmas carol whose lyrics were written by William Chatterton Dix, an Englishman, in 1865. At the time of composing this carol, Dix worked as an insurance company manager and had been struck by a severe and near fatal illness at the age of 29. While recovering, he underwent a great depression and spiritual renewal that led him to write several hymns—including the lyrics to this carol, which was subsequently set to the tune of "Greensleeves," a traditional English folk love-ballad of apparent

Elizabethan origin. Although "What Child Is This?" was written in Great Britain, the carol is today experiences greater popularity in the United States than in its country of origin.

The song's general context is the Adoration of the Shepherds in Luke 2, although v. 3 also alludes to the Magi of Matthew 2.

The Song notably poses several rhetorical questions in vv. 1 & 2:

What child is this, who, laid to rest on Mary's lap is sleeping?

Why lies He in such mean estate, where ox and ass are feeding?

The answer pertaining to the Child's Messianic identity is subsequently revealed in the chorus, while the chief reason for His coming in a state of such humility is particularly revealed in the evangelistic appeal of verse 3 to receive Christ as Savior:

The King of kings salvation brings, Let loving hearts enthrone Him.

The Song ultimately recalls the question of questions posed by our Lord unto His disciples at Caesarea Philippi in Matt. 16:13-17:

Matt. 16:15; "But who do you say that I am?"

Do YOU know who Jesus is? Do you know WHY He came? Have you personally received Him as the Eternal God come in human flesh to die for your sins as your substitute? Have you accepted the free gift of eternal life and placed your trust in His finished work on the Cross for your salvation?
